LETTER OF CONSENT

To Whom It May Concern,

I, _____

Ask to publish my article, entitled _____

(hereinafter referred to as “the Article”) in the book _____

(hereinafter referred to as “the Book”), edited by _____

(hereinafter referred to as “the Editor”), which shall be published by the Hebrew University Magnes Press (hereinafter referred to as “the Publisher”).

I herewith give permission and agree that I will not have any rights to the Book, including copyright, and that they belong solely to the Publisher, free of charge.

I warrant that the Article was written by me, and that it contains no libelous statements and does not infringe on any copyright, trademark, patent, statutory rights or proprietary rights of others; and that I will indemnify the Publisher against any cost, expenses or damages for which the Publisher may become liable as a result of any breach of this warranty.

Despite all of the above I retain the right to publish the article in a professional periodical and in a collection of my articles and this will not be considered a breach of this agreement. In such an event I will refer the Publication to the original article published in the Book.

In any event that disputes arise between me and the Publisher and/or the Editors that cannot be resolved, the Publisher and/or the Editors may retain the right not to publish the Article in the Book. If the Publisher do not publish the Article within 24 months from the date the edited Article reaches the Publisher or from the date of signature of this Letter, the later of the two dates, the full copyrights shall be reverted to me.

Cordially yours,
