

Contents

Note on Transliteration

Part I Polish - Jewish Relations in North America

Introduction

MIECZYSLAW B. BISKUPSKI and ANTONY POLONSKY

'We're all from Poland': Christians and Jews in Polish Immigrant Fiction

Karen MAJEWSKI

Polish-Jewish Relations in America, 1880 - 1940: Old Elements, New Configurations

Ewa Morawska

Poles and Jews in America and the Polish Question, 1914 - 1918

Mieczysław B. Biskupski

The American Federation of Polish Jews in Polish--Jewish Relations, 1924 - 1939

Andrzej Kapiszewski

Conflict between Poles and Jews in Chicago, 1900 - 1919

John Radzilowski

American Polonia and Polish Jewry in the United States, 1940 - 1941

David Engel

The Evacuation of Jewish Polish Citizens from Portugal to Jamaica, 1941 - 1943

Tomasz Potworowski

Coverage of the Holocaust in Winnipeg's Jewish and Polish Press, 1939 - 1945

Daniel Stone

The Necessity of 'Bieganski': A Shamed and Horrified World Seeks a Scapegoat

Danusha V. Goska

Constructing Collective Memory: The Re-envisioning of Eastern Europe as Seen through American Jewish Textbooks

Jonathan Krasner

The National Polish American - Jewish American Council: A Short History

Stanislaus A. Blejwas

Why America Has Not Seemed Like the Diaspora

Stephen J. Whitfield

From Auschwitz to Jerusalem: Re-enacting Jewish History on the March of the Living

Rona Sheramy

Contentious History: A Survey on Perceptions of Polish - Jewish Relations during the Holocaust

Robert Cherry

A Question of Identity: Polish Jewish Composers in California

Maja Trochimczyk

Three American Jewish Writers Imagine Eastern Europe (Thane Rosenbaum, Rebecca Goldstein, and Jonathan Safran Foer)

Anna P. Ronell

The Jedwabne Debate in America

Antony Polonsky

The Holocaust: A Continuing Challenge for Polish-Jewish Relations

John T. Pawlikowski

Part II New Views

'In the Land of their Enemies'? The Duality of Jewish Life in Eighteenth-Century Poland

Adam Teller

The Controversy over Mickiewicz's Jewish Origins

Laura Quercioli Mincer

The Double Voice in Polish Jewish Women's Autobiographies of the 1930s

Toby W. Clyman

The Polish Plan for a Jewish Settlement in Madagascar, 1936 - 1939

Carla Tonini

A Historian in Ideological Fetters

Jerzy Tomaszewski

Polish - Jewish Relations in the City of Vilna and the Western Vilna Region under the Soviet Occupation, 1939 - 1941

Marek Wierzbicki

Jewish - Polish Relations and the Lithuanian Authorities in Vilna, 1939 - 1940

Sarunas Liekis

The Report of the Instytut Pamici Narodowej on the Massacres in North-Eastern Poland in Summer 1941

GUNNAR S. PAULSSON

The Black Book of Lithuanian Jewry

David Patterson

An Attempt to Recover its Voice: The Towarzystwo Społeczno Kulturalne Żydów w Polsce, the Jewish Community, and the Polish State, 1956 - 1960

ALINA CALA

'I am an example that it is possible to be both a Pole and a Jew': Polish Jewish Identity and the 1968 Events in Henryk Grynberg's Memorbuch

Karen Auerbach

The Antyk Bookshop: Three Expert Opinions Submitted to the Early 2003 Court Case

Jerzy Tomaszewski

New edition of the Memoirs of a Jewish Policeman: The True Testimony of Perechodnik, reprinted from Rzeczpospolita, 11 December 2004

ANDRZEJ KACZYNSKI

Part III Exchange

Reply to the Review by Andrzej Trzcinski and Marcin Wodzinski, 'Some Remarks on Leszek Hondo's Study of the Old Jewish Cemetery in Kraków

LESZEK HONDO

Explanation

ANDRZEJ TRZCINSKI AND MARCIN WODZINSKI

Obituary

Jacek Kuron

Notes on the Contributors

Glossary

Index